Participants will gain the proprietary coaching tools and skills needed to help hurting people encounter the presence of God and find freedom in Christ.

The Freedom Certification Program will build upon the core competencies of a Christian Coach and will lean heavily on how to coach in spiritual areas of a persons life. This program is for those who want to learn how to coach sessions with tools that resonate with inner healing modalities but are clearly in the coaching stream and not counseling, ministry, or discipleship.

Those who successfully complete this certification program will have the skills necessary to coach clients in accordance with the ICF core competencies and facilitate the Freedom Coach Model® and The Freedom Framework™. Participants will learn how to coach clients to encounter God's presence, find inner healing with listening prayer, discover proprietary tools for breakthrough, and help clients grow in spiritual maturity.

Jill Monaco holds an PCC with the ICF and is a certified Mentor Coach. She will pass on her high level training and expertise to you. There is no other program that teaches this model of coaching at the ICF approved level offering CCEs.

Although we'd love to train everyone to use our models, this program is not for aspiring coaches. This program uses advanced tools and a measure of training is necessary to begin.

Program Schedule, Details, & Outline

Disclaimer:

The Freedom Certification Program is an opportunity to learn how to care more for your clients so they can get a breakthrough. Although you will also be using the tools on yourself and will find more freedom, this program is for coaches, counselors, pastors, or ministers who have already experienced significant healing and gained a level of emotional intelligence and coach competency that will help others through similar journey's.

With that understanding, those who participate in this program are expected to be coaching or ministering at a professional level and have the capacity to carry the burden for others without being significantly triggered themselves. The best candidates for this program are those who are looking to grow in and add to their skills and feel emotionally stable and spiritually mature in their own lives.

Acceptance into the Freedom Certification Program is not a guarantee of certification. We anticipate and believe every person who takes this training will be able to meet the requirements mentioned above. We understand certification is also a rigorous process which is why it requires successful completion of the entire program, including demonstration of satisfactory performance of skills taught in the program. Successful completion of the program is ultimately determined by Jill Monaco Ministries, however, the participants will have ample opportunity to meet the qualifications for certification.

Our heart at Jill Monaco Ministries is to equip coaches to effectively use the Freedom Coach Model and The Freedom Framework. If a participant seems to struggle to grasp the content or use the tools effectively, Jill Monaco and the team will ask the coach to add training, 1:1 sessions with Jill (at an additional expense to coach), or seek appropriate help for themselves. In a case like this, we will encourage the participant to grow. If the participant is unwilling or unable to do so, they may be given the opportunity to leave the program.

Ongoing certification will require:

- A renewal fee of $500/year for the use of the trademark, licensed materials, ongoing training, business materials, and updated resources.
- Attendance of quarterly trainings through Jill Monaco Ministries (included in renewal fee).
- At least 15 hours of continued education (CCE's)/year, good standing with the ICF or other credential programs. As an option—Jill Monaco Ministries will offer specialty courses on topics at various times of the year to help participants meet this requirement. Quarterly training hours will also apply so it is easy to meet the requirement.
- Documented 15 coaching hours using the Freedom Coach Model and Freedom Framework per year.

Your Next Steps:

Once the application is accepted, the potential participant will meet with Jill Monaco on Zoom for an interview and both will have the opportunity to ask questions. A License Agreement will need to be signed before the start of the program.

We are excited to see how God will use you for the Kingdom and help others walk in their identity in Christ. We consider this a privilege to equip you and are praying for all God will do in and through you.
